

A 3-4 Scientific Publishing: Editor, Referee & Author Responsibilities (1 CP)

Dr. Joe Krumpfer; Wiley VCH, Editor of the Advanced Functional Materials Journal

Course Description

This event offers the opportunity to learn about important aspects of scientific publishing from the point of view of an editor. Important steps that have to be undertaken to submit a paper successfully will be pointed out, i.e. getting in contact with editors, finding out about citation style, deadlines, and review procedures. The audience will learn what aspects and mistakes can cause problems in the submission process and in the worst-case lead to rejection of a scientific paper.
